The FINAL CLASSIFICATION GROUPS, will consist of the sum of positions obtained by each participant in the different sleeves of the competition, being classified from minor to greater sum of positions. If there are equal positions between two or more fishermen, it will first be the one that has obtained the highest number of points (weight) in the sum of the sleeves. If the tie persists, it will be first, the fisherman with the highest number of points (weight) in one of the sleeves.

For climatological or organizational reasons, the schedules, scenarios and the duration of the tests may vary.

For what is not included in these rules, any decision must comply with the Regulations of Sports Fishing Competitions.
